Dear Brian,

Thank you for the opportunity to discuss the “Anthony” movie with you. I began my career in Hollywood working for CAA over 20 years ago, and I have been working in the faith/family space for approximately seven years in the Nashville area. During that time I have worked closely as a consultant with Provident Films reading scripts, reviewing films and working as part of the development team. I also have close relationships with Echolight, Working Title Agency, Sony Affirm and submit projects to the heads of their companies for possible distribution with prompt responses. I have a close working relationship with several producers who have had successful projects distributed through PureFlix.

These companies have marketed/distributed many of the successful faith-based films such as “Heaven is for Real”, “Miracles from Heaven”, “Courageous”, “War Room”, “God’s Not Dead” among many others. They are the leaders in that film market.

Through this experience I have gained a valuable understanding of the faith and family film audience and what the distributors/marketing executives are looking to acquire. Based on the content I have seen of the “Anthony” project, I would be willing to recommend that these companies review and consider the project for distribution and marketing.

I am available to help consult from script to screen on the project and help the movie find the best distribution connection for it’s audience.

Sincerely,

Christine Johnson

To Whom It May Concern:

I have read a script version of “Anthony” and would be interested in distributing “Anthony” based on seeing the final cut.

Thank you,
